- o. evidence of the times the device was used;
- p. passwords, encryption keys, and other access devices that may be necessary to access the device;
- q. documentation and manuals that may be necessary to access the device or to conduct a forensic examination of the device;
- r. records of or information about Internet Protocol addresses used by the device;
- s. records of or information about the device's Internet activity, including firewall logs, caches, browser history and cookies, "bookmarked" or "favorite" web pages, search terms that the user entered into any Internet search engine, and records of user-typed web addresses;
- t. contextual information necessary to understand the evidence described in this attachment.

As used above, the terms "records" and "information" includes all forms of creation or storage, including any form of electronic storage.

The search for evidence is limited to information stored/recorded on the device and may not extend to remotely accessing the internet, websites, or cloud-based storage.

Segregation and Sealing Protocol: For Device 1, government-authorized persons will review that information to inspect, analyze, and locate the items described in Attachment B. Agents will then segregate and seal, until further order of the Court, all information that was not lawfully seized as part of that review.
